Sertoman of the Year Randy Smith was roasted by the infamous, Doug Harder. Doug did some research and dug up the dirt on Randy's early days. Randy's wife was here and didn't seem to disagree with anything Doug said. Listen to the Roast of "Rock'n Randy Smith".mp3

Sertoman of the Day Tom (the tooth) Fry pulled out his stool which was almost as tall as him and began the epic saga of his life. Between his scratching of the mic and comments from the peanut gallery, I think we got most of his adventure through life.

Tommy (Tooth) Fry was born in 1933, 79 years ago. A product of the sturdy Custer County

High School graduating in 1951, Tommy moved on to Carleton College graduating in 1954, then to Columbia Dental School earning his Dental tools in 1958, followed by two years in the Army (1958-1960) defending the Great Northwest where not a single dental stool was destroyed. Kay agreed to marry Tom in '58, four days after Tom graduated from Columbia Dental School. Over the years, they have gained 3 kids and 2 grandkids.

Tommy came to Denver in Sep. of 1960, just after his 2 years in the Army and practiced dentistry on Federal 'til the flood of '65', then at the corner of Broadway and Arapahoe beginning in 1970. Though he practiced, he apparently didn't get the hang of it and retired in '96. Tom was brought into the club by Bob Gallagher in 1965/66 and the club has benefited immensely. Program: Bob Schlageter introduced Glenn Bott, founder of The Warrior's Way.

"I reinvented myself after my bicycling injury.

I went through a one-way door – I did not emerge the same person I was when I entered. During the recovery period, my heart more fully opened and my sense of what was important shifted. I began to reassess how I was living my life, what was meaningful and personally fulfilling.

I took my past teachings in leadership, mindfulness, business, personal power, and various Spiritual teachings and wove them into the Warrior's Way. This is a way of life that is both powerful and fulfilling. The focus of the Warrior's Way is on being authentic, living consciously, and mastering your life. Like the mythical Phoenix bird, the new "Glenn" rose from the ashes.

I am now on a mission to share what I learned to help individuals, athletes, entrepreneurs, and business people to." From: <http://www.warriorwayllc.com/about-2/>
